

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mr. D. B. Edmiston, after a two weeks' confinement to his room, is able to be behind the counter again.

—A few loads of rock and gravel are badly needed to fill up the "sinks" between the depot and town. Attention, ye road bosses.

—Miss Mary Curtis gave a candy party at her country home Monday night, which was attended by several of the belles and beaux from town. They report lots of fun and "tally."

—All the young men in the C. O. precinct who love their homes, mothers, sweethearts and reputations better than they do their bottles and dinjohns, are earnestly requested to meet W. A. Brooks and J. S. Edmiston at the post-office before 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 15th, with their votes in their pockets.

—Prof. James A. Tate appeared here Tuesday night to an overcrowded house and delivered one of the finest temperance lectures that we have ever listened to. The teetotaler, the moderate drinker and the red-nosed reprobate, women and children—all sat spell bound for an hour and a half, while he showed to them in his clear, eloquent and impressive manner the evils of the saloon system.

—We are delighted to hear that Col. Sam Burdette is again astride the editorial tripod, and if he but writes one third as entertainingly of Kansas and her people as he did of his beloved Kentucky, we envy the jayhawkers the rare treat in store for them. By the way, your scribe has his "In and About Kentucky" articles collected in a neatly arranged scrap-book, embellished with an excellent portrait and biographical sketch of the "Col.," of whom, to say the least, we are an enthusiastic admirer.

—Last Tuesday night Bill King, a young blood of equivocal reputation, went to the home of widow Baker, who lives a short distance from town and demanded of her daughter, the wife of Tom Wren, who is a half brother of King, some household goods, which he (King) claimed that she had carried away when her husband was taken to jail. The woman refused to give him any satisfaction and a quarrel ensuing, King pulled his pistol and fired at her, barely missing her head and frightening the family terribly. He fled, but has been arrested charged with shooting with intent to kill.

—John R. Brooks is in town. Miss Ballard, a pretty brunette of Rockcastle, is the guest of Miss Ella May Saunders on Spring Avenue. Miss Mollie Warren is again home after spending a few days with her brother's family at Rowland. Mrs. Sarah Welch, of Nicholasville, is attending the bedside of her sister, Miss Cynthia Carson. Mrs. Sarah Bradley, of Kean, came over last week to visit her brother, Mr. Ed Jones. Rev. J. G. Livingston went to Pineville Saturday night and delivered one of his best sermons there Saturday to a good congregation of capitalists and boomers. Mr. Frank Wallin, who has been drumming in Hoosierdom for the past year or so, is here on a visit to his father and mother. Frank seems to grow handsomer and handsomer. Mr. and Mrs. McDougal, who have been at the Harris House several weeks, left Saturday for Knoxville.

John Wanamaker, who bought a cabinet office by contributing to a corruption fund, advertises the crankiness which he imagines to be piety by giving a dinner without wine in honor of a president who goes from morning prayers to breaking his pledges, appointing rogues to office and shielding from punishment rascals whose crimes were committed in behalf of the party of "great moral ideas." Oh, for a 40-ponson power to chant thy praise, Hypocrite!—New York World.

Lives of poor men oft remind us honest toil don't stand a chance, more we work we leave behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants once new and glossy now are patches of different hue; all because subscribers linger and won't pay up what is due. Then let all be up and doing; send in your mite be it so small, or when the snows of winter strike us we shall have no pants at all.—Bozeman Appeal.

If you have frequent headaches, dizziness and fainting spells, accompanied by chill, cramps, corns, bunions, chilblains, epilepsy and jaundice, it is a sign that you are not well, but is liable to die at any minute. Pay your subscriptions a year in advance and thus make yourself solid for a good obituary notice.—Danville (N. Y.) Breeze.

Fangle—"What do you think of this piece of newspaper advice: 'Tell your wife every day that you love her?'" Cumso—"I don't think the papers ought to encourage lying."

A continual coughing is very annoying to persons sitting near you in any kind of a gathering; besides, it is of great damage to the throat and is exceedingly dangerous at this season of the year. One-half bottle of Reggs' Cherry Cough Syrup will relieve any ordinary cough, and this remedy costs more than the inferior grades that are thrown on the markets to sell at enormous profits. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

—The wife of U. S. Marshal Burdett died at Louisa, after a long illness.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—Arthur Wallace has presented a bill to make oontz playing a felony.

—Judge Vincent Boring and others are endeavoring to get a charter for the Pineville Street Car Company.

—The bill to amend the local option law, presented by Mr. Warren, has been made the special order for the 19th.

—Mr. Warren has been appointed on the committee to investigate lawlessness in Harlan and Perry counties in place of Mr. Settle declined.

—Mr. Warren introduced his bill to confer police powers upon railroad conductors while in the discharge of their duties.

—The town of Danville has had all the amendments in relation to its charter reduced into one and given a new charter.

—A Winchester and a Lexington party are warring over which shall have the charter to run the Middlesboro street car business.

—A bill has passed to change the spelling of Daviess county so that the e comes before the i. The wherefore of such a proceeding does not appear.

—A bill is before the House to fix the weight of a bushel of corn in the ear at 68 in place of 70 lbs. The former figure is the legal one in Indiana.

—Mr. Warren wants the people of the State protected from over charges and over weights by railroads and has presented a bill to prevent them.

—By Mr. Tomlinson—To create a retired docket for criminal and penal cases to which all such cases shall be transferred when continued for the second time.

—Before the House is a bill to change the penalty for carrying concealed weapons, making it punishable by a fine of from $50 to $200 and imprisonment from 30 to 90 days.

—Gov. Buckner's first veto was of a bill conferring too many ferry privileges to a Floyd county man. It was a small matter, perhaps, but it shows the vigilant old soldier is watching 'em.

—The Committee on Charitable Institutions decided to recommend the appropriation of $1,996.25 for the purpose of building additions to the Kentucky Institute for Deaf and Dumb Mutes at Danville and also decided to increase the appropriation for clothing the inmates from $200 to $500.

—A bill to punish managers of shows for imposing on the people by fraudulent advertisements, provides that any person who feels aggrieved because the show for which he paid did not include all that was promised in the advertisements, may have the manager arrested and fined from $20 to $50, or imprisoned from 10 to 20 days.

—Judge Thurman's bawdy-house bill, entitled "an act to prevent the keeping of bawdy-houses in the Commonwealth" should read "an act to license such houses in this Commonwealth." Under this misleading title is hidden the cloven-foot of bigger fees for city court officials. If passed, the bill could be of no possible benefit to any one save those who have gotten it up.—Louisville Post.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Elder Milton Elliott will preach at Crab Orchard Sunday, 16th, at 11 A. M., and 7 P. M.

—Rev. T. J. Godbey will preach at McKendree next Sunday morning and night.

—Rev. I. S. McElroy, of Mt. Sterling, closed a meeting at Augusta Presbyterian church with 26 additions.

—The mother of Rev. John Aug. Williams, of Daughters College, affectionately known as "Aunt Lou" died this week at an advanced age.

—Rev. Crow's meeting at the 11th street Methodist church, Covington, resulted in 60 confessions and 25 additions. He is now holding a meeting at Millersburg.

—The meeting which began at the Georgetown Christian church after Elder Sweeney's lectures there, resulted in 17 additions to the church.—Paris Kentuckian.

—The Southern Baptists will meet in convention at Fort Worth, Texas, May 9th. The five Baptist societies in the United States will meet in Chicago the latter part of May.

—Rev. J. W. Fitch, of the Methodist church, and Elder Fisher, of the Christian church, have arranged for a debate at Union Church, Montgomery county, beginning June 30. They had much better each hold a protracted meeting.

—Rev. J. M. Bruce is holding a protracted meeting at Beech Grove, says a Glasgow Times correspondent, which has had several additions and adds: "Eld. Bruce has greatly endeared himself to the people and will long occupy a warm place in their affections."

A Lady in South Carolina Writes: My labor was shorter and less painful than on two former occasions; physicians astonished; I thank you for "Mother's Friend." It is worth its weight in gold. Address The Bradford Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for particulars. Sold by A. R. Penny.

If you or any of your family should happen to be frantically burned or scalded, what have you in the house to alleviate the pain until you can get a physician? A box of Reggs' German Salve at hand in times like this would save a world of suffering, and oftentimes a doctor bill, as it has no equal in cases of this kind, as well as inflammation of all kinds. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—New Jersey's Assembly has passed a bill making two years' absence a cause for divorce.

—John Richner, aged 13 years, and Miss Elsie Westley, aged 11½ years, were last week married in North Carolina, with the full consent of the parents of both.

—The long and short of it is exemplified in the marriage at Scranton, Pa., of James Gilbert, 8 feet tall, to Miss Williams, only 4 feet.

—Wyoming is going to tax every unmarried man of 35 years $2.50 to raise a fund to support the old maids, who were always ready and willing to enter the matrimonial state.

—The marriage of Miss Florence Slaughter to Mr. Samuel J. Harlan which occurred at the Danville Baptist church Tuesday night, was a very swell affair. Mrs. M. J. Durham arranged the beautiful program and it was carried out with marked precision.

—Mr. George E. Alford, son of the late George W. Alford, and a clever young gentleman, obtained license Tuesday to marry Miss Jennie Bibb, grand-daughter of Col. R. F. Bibb, a very pretty and attractive maiden of 17. The ceremony was performed at the Gilcher House, at Danville, after which the pair returned to Mr. Alford's farm, near Moreland, where many friends joined and made merry with them till a late hour.

We learned last evening that instead of going to Danville as they led their friends to believe, they met Eld. W. L. Williams by appointment on the pike near Hustonville and were made one, both preacher and the contracting parties occupying buggies during the ceremony. Mr. Alford is such a matter of fact young man that we hardly supposed he would be guilty of such romantic methods, but you can't always tell about these things.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—M. F. Elkin bought of W. M. Murphy a lot of butcher stuff at 2½ cts.

—W. H. Wilson's sale of 45 trotters at Cynthiana averaged $415 per head.

—J. B. Vandiver, of Mercer, sold to W. M. Lackey 35 male colts for $2,450.

—The number of hogheads of Barley tobacco produced last year was estimated at 100,000.

—Mayor E. H. Burnside lost a 450-lb. Berkshire sow Wednesday. He thinks peritonitis caused her death.

—Monroe Leer has purchased 3 yearling jennets from John K. Baughman, of Hustonville, for $800.—Paris News.

—Pennsylvania farmers are tapping the maple trees and making sugar two months ahead of the regular time.

—The first day's sale of Brasfield & Co., at Lexington, brought 58 horses under the hammer at an average of $282.

—Good cattle are firm in Cincinnati at 3 to 4½, other grades run as low as 1½ cts; hogs are slow at 3½ to 4½; sheep find ready sale at 3 to 5½.

—The Advocate reports that G. A. Swinebroad bought in Tennessee 200 ewes at $3 and that W. L. Caldwell & Son sold a flock for $550.

—In 1889, 789 trotters, according to the latest revised count, entered the 2:30 list. A 2:30 horse is pretty common property in these days.

—W. O. Brock bought of H. H. Colyer, of Madison, 450 Tennessee wethers at $4 to $4.30. Mr. Colyer has handled about 7,000 sheep this season.

—At Brasfield's Wednesday's sale eight horses belonging to the estate of the late Col. Goodloe brought $27,850, Jay, by George Wilkes bringing $5,100.

—J. F. & B. G. Gover bought in Gardner and the East End of this county 18 2 and 3-year-old cattle at 2 to 2½ cents; a pair of aged mules for $300 and a combined gelding for $150.

—Hugh Colyer sold 40 mules to Tennessee parties at $75 and bought 3 jacks from Kentucky parties for $2,100. Geo. S. Williams sold 70 hogs averaging near 200 pounds at 3½ cents.—Richmond Climax.

—The Brasfield sale Tuesday realized an average of $1,100 for 66 head of horses. R. G. Evans, of Danville, bought several good ones at from $710 to $1,350. Commander and Elected, each by Electioneer, brought $5,600 apiece.

—The horse season is upon us again and horsemen will bear in mind that the Interior Journal office is admirably equipped for doing any work they may wish in its line. Bills, cards and advertisements furnished at the lowest rates.

—J. E. Farris has sold his saddle stallion, Gold King, full brother to Silver King, and the finest three-year-old in this section, to Davis & Bartley, of Fulton, Mo., for $1,000. Gold King went throughout the fair circuit as a two-year-old and was never beaten and was the winner of three sweepstakes out of five.

Gold King's dam is one of the best show mares in this part of Kentucky. She with her colts has taken numbers of premiums both as best mare and colts and at Kirksville with Gilt Edge and Silver King as best herd with six contestants. He is a descendant of the old four-mile race horse, Denmark, owned by J. E. Farris' grand-father and a fine strain of saddle stock blood runs in his veins.

The Crescent City.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Feb. 5, '90.

DEAR INTERIOR:—New Orleans is a wonderful city. There is nothing like it in the United States. It is more cosmopolitan than San Francisco even. I don't know whether I like it or not. It has its advantages and disadvantages. Among the latter are its narrow and dirty streets in the business portion of the city; the dampness of the mornings that is thick enough seemingly to be cut; the swarms of mosquitoes that make it necessary to sleep under a bar every night in the year; the admixture of people of almost every nationality under the sun; the danger of being washed from the face of the earth some of these fine mornings by the breaking of the levees along the Mississippi, the water being at present from 8 to 10 feet above the level of the city.

On the other hand, the climate is very mild in winter and not very unpleasant in summer; fresh vegetables are in the market nearly the year round; fish and oysters are as plentiful as they can be, and business seems to be very lively. Some of the residential streets are exquisite, among them the St. Charles, the Esplanade, Rampart and Upper Canal. These are very wide, having a drive of good width on either side, two rows of trees in the middle, the space between which is nicely set in grass. St. Charles is paved with asphalt. The residences along this are just the loveliest I ever beheld. They are not great big 3 and 4-story buildings, large enough for hotels, but 2-story houses of good size, of splendid design and beautifully finished, surrounded by yards filled with the prettiest flowers—all in full bloom—and semi-tropical plants of many varieties. Orange trees blooming and with ripe fruit hanging from them adds to the beauty. When the sun comes out and the fog has lifted, I feel like I would rather live here than anywhere else, but—its disadvantages!

The French Market is a wonder in itself. It would be hard to name an article that is not there exposed for sale. Early in the morning it sounds like a perfect Babel, so many different languages are spoken.

The French Cathedral is another interesting object. The frescoing and paintings are very fine indeed. In one corner representations of the Hill of Calvary, Jesus hanging on the Cross and Joseph's New Tomb are wrought in stone and look quite real. The Cathedral is comparatively new, but the adjoining courts are between 125 and 150 years old.

North of Canal street is called the French Quarter, because the largest part of the population is of this race, but Turks, Italians and those of nearly all other nationalities live there. It is a mixed crowd, to be sure.

Weather is warm in the sun, but cool in the shade. Vegetation is as far advanced as it generally is in Kentucky in May. Peas are blooming, beans and potatoes are 8 or 10 inches high and corn is up.

To go back a little, Georgia is the best State thro' which I have yet passed. Savannah is one of the most thriving of Southern cities, being a pleasant place to live as well as to do business. Waycross, Dupont, Valdosta and Thomasville are booming towns. The growing of pears is getting to be an important industry in Southern Georgia. I saw all along the road large orchards. The trees are in fine condition and come are in full bloom. From Pensacola to New Orleans the railroad track for about a fourth of the distance is on bridges. Country is low and very swampy.

T. R. WALTON.

—Cincinnati has adopted railroad standard time at last.

—The fund being raised to erect a monument to the great Hamiltonian has reached $1,300 and will be increased to $2,500.

—The Harrodsburg Democrat says that Dr. Deidman shipped 6,300 dozen eggs to New York Thursday, making 15,000 dozen that he has shipped in a few weeks.

—The sale of the Mattingly distillery plant, consisting of the distillery building, warehouses, machinery, cattle-pens, sheds and 25 acres of land, near Louisville, realized $125,100. It was bought by the creditors. The original cost was $500,000.

—Jacob R. Slater, his wife and four children were drowned in the lake at Binnewater, N. Y. The children were skating on thin ice, which broke and precipitated them into the water. Their mother rushed on the ice to save them and the husband followed, all perishing beneath the ice before assistance could be rendered. Thus was wiped out the entire family.

—Dick Hawes, who is to swing at Birmingham on the 28th, has made a confession. He says that his wife had agreed to take the children and leave, and as the time for his marriage to Miss Story approached and she did not leave, he did not know what to do. John Wylie approached him and offered to rid him of them for $200, which was agreed upon. A few days later Wylie told him that they would bother him no more. He paid the $200, went to Columbus and was married. On the strength of this Wylie has been arrested.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON;

County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEE;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY;

Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

The republicans of Ohio are much stirred up over the prospect that the democratic legislature will re-district the State and do away with the most unscrupulous gerrymander ever inflicted on a people. Under its operations the democrats who cast 396,495 votes in 1888 only elected five Congressmen, the republicans with but 416,004 votes elected 16. A bill has been prepared which will change the order of things by giving the democrats 15 out of the 21 Congressmen. To prevent this Congress has been appealed to, Representative Wickham having introduced a bill to prohibit the re-districting of Ohio. It is said that the new arrangement will leave McKinley out in the cold, which will not be regretted by fair-minded men, since the part he took in support of Reed's tyrannical rulings.

GEN. WATT HARDIN has addressed a letter to the people of Kentucky, which is published in Wednesday's Courier-Journal, in defense of his response to Langley's resolution directing him to make certain reports. He disclaims any intention to offer an affront to the legislature which had not adopted the resolution in both branches of it, as was necessary to make it operative and says he only acted after the animus of Langley was shown in a motion to appoint a committee to make him respond. He well knew Langley's object so he gave him an unexpected dose and is glad of it. The letter is in very vigorous language and ought to make Langley go into his hole and stay there till he knows better than to use his official prerogative to vent his private spleen.

At the instance of the Kentucky Press Association, Hon. G. R. Keller has prepared and Representative Triplett has introduced a legal advertising bill, which is so carefully guarded as to admit of no objection that we can see, except from the publisher, whose rates are much more than those proposed, as is in our case. The law, while it will add something to the gross receipts of a newspaper, is not alone for its benefit. Those whose property is to be sold by order of court will realize more than any one else by greater publicity being given to the sales, which are now practically made without notice. So far as we are concerned, it is immaterial whether the law passes or not, but it should be enacted in simple justice to the interests involved.

We have read of accouchements on trains, in sleeping cars, in wagons and other odd places, but a New York woman is the first to take a crowded opera house for the business. Such an event occurred a few nights since, during the rendition of the heavy opera "Gotterdammerung," brought on perhaps by the effort to pronounce the hideous name.

THAT astute statesman and great man generally, the Hon. Frank Finley, has introduced a bill to pension the unmarried sisters of soldiers of the late war. Why not add to their sisters, their cousins and their aunts. To this complexion will it come at last in their effort to buy the soldier vote, to reduce the surplus and keep up the war tariff.

THE tariff reform democrats in the late Judge Kelley's district in Pennsylvania have nominated W. M. Ayres and are going to contest every inch of ground with the republican candidate for Congress, with a bare possibility to electing him. Mr. Ayres was a candidate against Judge Kelley the last time he ran and greatly reduced his majority.

Nor content with running a daily and a weekly paper, Editor John B. Gaines of Bowling Green, has begun the publication of a monthly paper, called the Stockman and Farmer, the first number of which gives evidence of becoming both profitable to the founder and of great advantage to the live stock interests.

THE Supreme Court in Iowa has decided that the possession of government license to sell liquor is prima facie evidence of intent to violate the State law. If the Kentucky court would follow suit, it would be a long step towards enforcing prohibition when the people have voted it shall prevail.

SETTLERS and speculators are rushing into the Sioux reservation and scenes similar to those enacted on the opening of Oklahoma are repeated with many variations. The land is said to be fertile and the section to possess many advantages.

THE president continues to show his fondness for newspaper men by appointing Charles Emory Smith, of the Philadelphia Press, minister to Russia.

The several papers who were tickled by a notice from the skinflint advertising firm of George P. Rowell & Co., that they are the best advertising mediums in the State, have had their feathers somewhat cut by the Frankfort Capital, which takes almost as little stock in Rowell & Co. as we do. In the list of preferred papers is the name of the Frankfort Herald, which precariously existed for a few weeks and then turned its little toes to the daisies many moons ago. There are some good papers in the list mentioned, but we are satisfied that Rowell & Co. were induced to specify them more because they are able to "work" them than because they have such a fine opinion of their merits. The Richmond Climax says that the very fact that the list doesn't include the Climax, the Stanford Journal, Harrodsburg Democrat, Paris News, Georgetown Times and a dozen other papers recognized among the best in the State, is pretty good evidence that there is a "wheel within a wheel."

The appointment of a negro woman to be pressman's assistant has created a row and a rumpus in the government printing office. The man with whom she was assigned to work resigned, but the public printer refused to accept it and discharged him instead. Another man feigned sickness in order to keep from working with her, but he was notified to report for duty by a certain time, or take the alternative. The union will take cognizance of the matter and a lively time is expected. All the government printers now are republicans, it may be well to state. The democrats have been fired long ago.

ANDREW CARNEGIE, who has grown to be one of the richest men in the country under the operations of a protective tariff, has given $1,000,000 to found free libraries in Pittsburgh. As the income of this cunning Scotchman is over $1,500 a day, thanks to his republican brethren, he can afford to be generous.

It is given out on good authority that Maj. H. S. Hale, president of the First National Bank of Mayfield, will be appointed by Gov. Buckner to succeed Treasurer Sharp. He is a fine business man and "fit" with the general in the war.

RESIGNATIONS seem to be in order at Frankfort. Thomas J. Henry, the nominal Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has thrown up the sponge and the real clerk, Thomas G. Poore, has been appointed by the court to fill the vacancy.

THIS from the Courier-Journal may do to tell to the marines: "There are intimations from Frankfort that the present legislature will distinguish itself by adjourning at the expiration of the constitutional limit of 60 days."

It is stated that Nellie Bly, the young woman who beat the record in going around the world, is shortly to marry Editor James S. Metcalfe, of Life. If Nellie is half as ugly as the cuts make her we pity poor James.

Gov. McCREARY made an able speech against the majority report of the Committee on Rules, Wednesday, which was highly complimented by everybody, including Mr. Watterson, who was on the floor.

—King William fell in a race at Clinton, N. Y., and died in a few minutes.
—Abraham Lincoln would have been 81 years old if he had lived till Wednesday.

—The Mississippi legislature has changed the name of Bolivar county to Jeff Davis.

—Seven boys were drowned in the river near New Orleans, by the upsetting of two yawls. Only one of the party escaped.

—The Mississippi legislature appropriated $10,000 to the fund for the Confederate monument now being erected in Jackson.

—The Gentiles carried the municipal elections at Salt Lake City by 500 or more over the Mormons, who are terribly disgruntled.

—Elison Mounts, who is sentenced to die in a few weeks at Pikeville for the murder of Miss McCoy, is feigning insanity and will not eat or speak.

—Ten railway mail service clerks were killed last year; 95 were seriously injured, 40 were slightly injured. The record of casualties was the worst in 15 years.

—Gov. Taylor has called an extra session of Tennessee legislature to convene Feb. 24. The principal subjects are conflicting election laws and double taxation.

—C. P. Huntington has publicly announced his intention to build important extensions of the Ohio and Big Sandy railroad in the valleys of the Tug and Levisa.

—The tow-boat Port Eads, with six barges loaded with grain, struck a sunken bridge pier at Memphis and seven of the crew were drowned. The boat is a total loss.

—C. Soule has been appointed postmaster at Science Hill, Pulaski county, vice W. S. Goodwin removed, and G. W. DeBord at Bright, in Casey, vice J. B. Wesley resigned.

—During the process of a family quarrel in Clark county, Isaac Anderson was shot and fatally wounded by his son, Henry Anderson, the latter firing a load of shot into his father's lungs, at close range.

—Florence Duncan, an inmate of Mmme. Fielder's mason de joie, at Louisville, fell on a red-hot stove and was roasted to death.

—There was an alarm of fire at the Richmond, Va., theatre Wednesday night, but Miss Emma Abbott continued to sing and thus restored confidence.

—The Duke of Orleans was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for violating the law of his exile from France. An appeal will be taken from the sentence of the court.

—Finley and Willson are at war over the Census Supervisor of this district. The former wants Neat, of Adair, and the latter Capt. Beatty, with the probability that a dark horse will win the race.

—The committee on resolutions of the Iowa Assembly presented a report denouncing United States Senator Wm. B. Allison as a monopolist and demanding his defeat for re-election by the legislature.

—The Virginia legislature passed without a dissenting vote the bill authorizing J. C. Ashbury, a colored attorney, to erect a hotel for the accommodation of his race on the government lands, at Old Point.

—A British steamer reaching Philadelphia reports passing an iceberg 700 feet high and one mile long. She would have made money if she had have towed it into port. Ice is going to be ice next summer.

—The Rev. John B. Reese, of Girard, Ala., a saintly old wreck, has skipped for parts unknown. It has been discovered that for 11 years past he has been guilty of criminal intimacy with his own daughter.

—A boy named Keller shot another named Givens accidentally at Lexington, the ball passing through his abdomen and cutting six intestines. The doctors cut him open, patched him up and he is in a fair way to recover.

—As we expected, the republican majority of the House Committee on Elections, by a strict party vote, has recommended the unseating of the democrat in the contested case of Atkinson against Pendleton from the First West Virginia district.

—There are 13 distilleries in operation in Anderson county. They are using 4,500 bushels of corn daily, which would make, counting 34 gallons to the bushel, a low estimate, 17,000 gallons, or 375 barrels of whisky per day, and 442,000 gallons or 9,750 barrels per month.

—Within three days after an observation in a Paris, France, paper appeared to the effect that those addicted to alcohol were not liable to influenza, no less than 15,000 people were arrested in the city for drunkenness; 1,200 of them said they were trying to keep off la grippe.

—Mr. Cleveland, in his veto message of the direct tax, declared that "a sheer, bald gratuity, bestowed either upon States or individuals, based upon no better reasons than supports the gift proposed in this bill, has never been claimed to be a provision for the general welfare."

—Prof. L. H. Hast, an old and well-known musician of Louisville, went into the store of John Burk, dealer in razors, and buying one cut his own throat. After inflicting the gash he staggered around scattering blood all over the store and finally fell dead. He is thought to have been insane.

—The Sioux Indian Reservation of 9,000,000 acres of Dakota land has been thrown open to the settlers under the homestead law, which requires in addition to the fees the payment of $1.25 an acre. Land offices are established at Chamberlain and Pierre. The land is said to be very fertile.

—The Los Angeles river has changed its course below the city of that name and inundated six miles of country. A large number of orange, walnut, lemon and other orchards are almost ruined. Growing crops in its course are completely destroyed. The total damage in that locality is estimated at $750,000.

—A freight train ran through the open switch of a signal station at Big Bend Tunnel on the C. & O., pushing the station into the river and plunging in after it. The telegraph operator, the engineer and the fireman were carried into the river and drowned. The freight cars were piled up all over the track.

—Two important questions have received recently judicial settlement. A Pennsylvania court has decided that pigeons are animals under the law, and the Supreme Court of the United States has decreed that beans are vegetables. The circuit court of a N. Y. district had decided that beans were field seeds and liable to duty.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—David Henderson is rejoicing over the advent of a 102-pound boy.

—Ohio oil men are talking of coming to Rockcastle to bore for oil and gas. There is a good prospect for others from Pennsylvania coming at an early date.

—By the recent change in the schedule our people can now leave here at 10:47 A. M. and reach Cincinnati at 7:45 P. M., making only one change, that at Lebanon Junction. No lay over; no delays. Limited fare $4.50.

—A grand fox chase was had a few days since by a number of the lovers of that exciting sport. Twenty-five dogs were in the chase. The fox was shot by one of the excited hunters, after a few hours' run, and the fun ceased.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

Special Term of the Lincoln County Court, held Jan. 15, 1890, Hon. Thos. W. Varnon presiding.

To comply with an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, approved January 8, 1890, entitled "An Act to repeal an Act entitled 'An Act to authorize the people of Lincoln county to vote on prohibiting the sale of liquors and fixing the penalty for the sale of liquors in said county,' approved April 14, 1886, said county to vote on said repeal. It is now therefore ordered that a poll be opened at each voting place in Lincoln county on Saturday, Feb. 15th, 1890,

At which time all legally qualified voters of said county shall be entitled to vote for or against the repeal of said law of 1886. The sheriff is directed to give notice at each voting place of said election at least 10 days before the said 15th day of February, 1890. It is further ordered that said sheriff shall see that said election is held on said day, between the hours of 7 o'clock a. m. and 6 o'clock p. m.

Attest: GEO. B. COOPER,
Clerk Lincoln County Court.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mrs. John M. McRoberts, Jr., is quite ill.
Capt. V. M. Hill has moved to Middlesboro.
J. C. Hays is up after a two-weeks tussle with the grip.
Miss Mary Burke leaves Saturday to visit friends in Louisville.
Miss Betsy Pennington has returned from a visit to relatives at Somerset.
Miss Jessie Hubbard, of Hodgenville, is the guest of Miss Eugenia Pulliam.
Miss Emma Raines, of Lebanon, is visiting the Misses Baker, near Shelby City.
Mrs. T. W. Mattingly and Miss Ida Eickett, of Lebanon, are guests of Mrs. W. M. O'Bryan.
Misses Pattie and Annie Tribble passed up Wednesday to Middlesboro to make their home.
Messrs. R. C. and Sam Hicks, of Somerset, attended Miss Cynthia Carson's burial here yesterday.
Mrs. M. M. Hayden is back from Louisville, where she went to buy furniture for her home at Lancaster.
Mr. J. J. Peter, a young cattle king from St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting his little sister, Bird, at Mr. J. H. Tucker's.
Mr. B. G. Alford returned from Middlesboro Tuesday. He caught onto the boom and took in a good many ducks.
Mrs. W. H. Denton, of Spears, was the guest of Mrs. B. K. Wearon on her way to Middlesboro, where she will locate.
Mr. Max Salinger has gone to Louisville with the view of buying a wholesale clothing establishment on which he has an option.
Misses Alene Welsh, of Nicholasville, and Bertie Hicks, of Somerset, were here yesterday in attendance at the funeral of Miss Cynthia Carson.
Mrs. Mary T. Creagh, of Harrodsburg, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. B. St. Clair, for sometime, will return home in a few days.
Dr. D. L. Fry, of Hickory, N. C., has located here to practice his profession, and has rented the McRoberts building on Lancaster street, opposite the Court-House.
Misses Anne and Ella Shanks are now the guests of Gov. and Mrs. Eagle, at Little Rock, Ark. They are not expected to return to Stanford till late in March.
Wm. M. Waters, who has been attending a Cincinnati business college for some months, is now first book-keeper of the Automatic Machine Co., in the Queen City.
Mr. T. E. Hauke, representing the Chicago News, was here yesterday and established an agency at W. B. McRobert's drug store. The 6 p. m. edition of yesterday, for instance, will arrive at 2 to-day.
Miss Cettie Thurmond went to Louisville yesterday to visit the family of her brother, Mr. Samuel C. Thurmond. She will resume her position in the school with Prof. Frank McClary the first Monday in March.
Mrs. J. B. Phelps, of Fayette, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Martin, in this county. Mrs. Martin was here yesterday grieved over the news of the severe illness of her son, John M. Martin at Ash Grove, Mo.
Mr. Joe S. Jones, who formerly lived here, has returned from New York and it is understood that he will take the Powers store room, March 1. He will not, however take the goods as Mr. Powers will remove all that he does not dispose of at the sacrificing figures he has adopted.
Judge M. J. Durham and his handsome young wife, of Danville, were here Wednesday. The judge continues to receive letters from all over the State calling on him to become a candidate for governor or auditor. He is well fitted for either position, but the people seem to consider him peculiarly fitted for the latter, since his admirable conduct of the controller's office. He will likely answer the numerous calls one or the other before long.
Mr. Madison Engleman, of Madison county, Montana, is here visiting his brother, Joe H. Engleman, of this city. Mr. Engleman has been in Montana and Oregon for the past 27 years and this is his first visit to Kentucky in that time. He brought with him two car-loads of mares and one car of young stock by a high bred son of Almont, that he has at Wm. Tarkington's for sale for brood mares and road horses.—Advocate. Mr. Engleman is a brother of George R. and B. F. Engleman, of this county.

Wm. King, a white man, was tried for shooting at Mrs. Wren, see particulars in C. O. letter, and held in $100 bail.

By a freight car breaking down at Hazel Patch and another near Williamsburg, Thursday morning's 3:27 passenger did not pass till 9 o'clock.

MR. LUTHER BENSON closes the prohibition canvass here to-night and will go to Lancaster, where he will speak Sunday afternoon next at the court-house.

BOSS HAMILTON was caught between a couple of freight cars while coupling, yesterday morning, and was badly squeezed and bruised. The doctors fear he is hurt internally.

DR. BAILEY pronounces that the supposed cases of small-pox at Mr. M. F. Herrington's are nothing more than aggravated ones of chicken-pox and that each of the patients is doing well.

OUR K. C. train jumped the track near Duncannon Tuesday night and did not arrive till 3 a. m., Wednesday. Nobody hurt and no damage of consequence, except that the trainmen and passengers damaged their future prospects damning such a railroad.

MR. JOHN S. HUGHES is making some notable improvements at his handsome residence. An iron fence replaces the old and the building is now reached by a series of broad stone steps from the well-known Bedford, Ind. quarry.

AN INVENTOR.—Following the lead of Elder Wilson, of the same town, Rev. F. S. Pollitt has become an inventor. The patent office has granted him letters on a shaft-detacher, which we hope will bring much filthy lucre to the worthy gentleman.

THE I. J.'s new flag pole floated its first cold wave signal Wednesday and had the credit of seeing it fully verified, the mercury going several degrees below the promised 32. This has been the coldest week of the winter, but it has been bright and clear, and a decided improvement on the rainy, warm spells that we have experienced so often this year.

IN a letter to the Covington Commonwealth from Sanibel Island, Rev. George W. Dunlap throws out this bait: If Col. Dan Slaughter, the champion hotel-keeper of old Garrard, or my good friend, Col. W. S. Miller of the same health, were to run a hotel as a winter resort on Sanibel, they would soon fill this island with cottages and their pockets with money.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL weather department has a flag pole now that will stay with it. It is a locust, nearly 60 feet high and almost as straight as a gun barrel. Squire Young furnished it and it grew in the neighborhood of Highland. It will tell the weather prospects longer after Greeley and some of the rest of us have gone where the weather is always hot and cold waves never come.

NEW FIRM.—Messrs. W. S. Miller and H. C. Kauffman, of Lancaster, have formed a real estate and law partnership at Middlesboro and the former will locate there. They are both gentlemen of superior business qualifications and being thoroughly reliable and responsible, those who have dealings with them can rest assured that they will treat them well in every particular.

THE postoffice has been neatly fitted up, repainted and renovated generally. It is entirely cut off from the rest of the room by high lattice work and locked doors, giving Mrs. Courts entire immunity from those who have no business in the department. The rear has been arranged for a millinery, presided over by Miss Annie Wray, assisted by Miss Sue Rout. They are nicely fixed and ready to receive calls and serve the public.

GEN. GREEN CLAY SMITH spoke here Wednesday night for prohibition to a good audience in his usual vigorous manner. The general is a fine speaker, but the worst political prophet that ever prophesied. The last time we saw him was in the fall of 1888, just prior to the presidential election. Speaking of it, he asked us to mark his prediction, which was substantially as follows: Grover Cleveland will be elected next month. The defeated republican party will then begin to disintegrate, their best men going to the prohibitionists, which will also be recruited with the same kind of material from the democratic party. The republicans will make no presidential nomination in 1892 and the fight will be between a whisky democrat and a prohibitionist. The latter will be elected and an era of good government and sobriety will begin. The general didn't exactly say the year of jubilee would come, but he looked like he thought it. The reader will readily agree with us that the general didn't exactly know what he was talking about.

We have added to our stock a nice line of carpets, oil-cloths, matting and rugs. Now open. Call and see them. Severance & Son.

BANK STOCK.—An administrator of Thomas M. Ball, dec'd., will sell at public auction on Monday, March 3, county court day, 16 shares Lincoln National Bank stock. Thomas C. Ball.

DR. DAN L. FRY, of North Carolina, offers his professional service to the citizens of Stanford and surrounding country. I can be found in my office at any hour on Lancaster street, opposite the Court-House.

ON Sunday, 23d, Mr. Luther Benson will lecture on temperance at Danville, in the Court-house at 3 o'clock p. m. He is one of the finest lecturers on the subject in the country and those who attend will be pleased and instructed.

BARBOURVILLE is the next place to be boomed and a company is organizing to do it. The town is already the best in the mountains and its fine water power and other advantages favor the prospect of its becoming a large city.

THIS is St. Valentine's day. It was formerly observed with special ceremonies of much interest to the young people, but it is scarcely noticed now except by those who wish to send sentimental missives or the miserable caricatures which adorn the book stores at this season.

COMPROMISED FOR $15,000.—Mr. J. R. Mounts, of LaGrange, writes to friends here that he has at last effected a compromise with the L. & N. railroad for damages sustained by his wife and son in the wreck at Bardstown Junction over a year ago. The company pays him $15,000 and all expenses incurred in the trial, gathering up of witnesses, &c.

THE hop Wednesday evening was a decidedly enjoyable affair, notwithstanding the fact that the fair sex present were considerably in the minority. Miss Portwood, to whom the hop was given, was handsomely attired in a green velvet, with pink brocade trimmings; diamonds, and played her role with characteristic ease and grace. She is a typical Southern beauty and Texas was well represented. Boyce's orchestra from Lancaster furnished the music and it was not till past 2 a. m. that the sweet strains ceased and the scene of merriment made to resemble a banquet hall deserted.

WHEN Mr. Bobbitt made his speech before the prohibition meeting here court day he charged that he had sent John Stephens, a small boy, to Crab Orchard with 50 cents to buy whisky and that a certain doctor had given him a prescription for 10 cents and a druggist had sold the liquor for the balance of the money. To Rev. John Bell Gibson and others after his speech he stated that the drug man referred to was J. R. Bailey and the doctor was W. M. Doores. Mr. Bobbitt also stated that 10 cents was his regular fee for prescriptions and that Dr. Pettus asked 25. On the strength of the statement acting County Attorney W. E. Varnon, procured a warrant against Dr. Doores and Wednesday when the case was called at Crab Orchard it was proved that the prescription was obtained from Dr. Pettus and the whisky from Zeller. The boy stated that no examination was made, so a warrant was sworn out against Dr. Pettus, charging him with prescribing without making the examination specified by law. The statements of Mr. Bobbitt were contradicted by the boys and when put on the stand the ex-legislator could not remember that he had made certain of them.

DAN GARRARD SHOT.—On Monday evening at Manchester, Clay County, Dan K. Garrard, who is well known here, was shot, perhaps fatally, by Carlo Britton, a negro. Jim Garrard, a brother of Dan, had had a difficulty with the above named negro, in which he, Garrard, drew his pistol on him. The negro, who is a large, strong one, seized the pistol and wrested it from Mr. Garrard's hand and drew it on him. At this moment Dan Garrard heard of the difficulty and came out of a store near by to put a stop to it. When the negro saw him he held Jim with one hand and fired at Dan with the other, the bullet taking effect in the left shoulder just above the heart. Mr. Garrard drew his pistol and fired one shot at him, but before he could fire a second time fell to ground in a paralyzed condition. The negro took to his heels and is still at large. Mr. Garrard is in a critical condition and his recovery is thought exceedingly uncertain.

A message from Mr. R. M. Jackson, at London, conveys the sad intelligence that poor Dan died Wednesday. This will fill many a heart here with deep sorrow for he was greatly beloved by every one who knew him during the time he studied law under Hill & Alcorn. He was a warm-hearted, impulsive fellow, absolutely without fear, and would go further to serve a friend than any one we ever knew. A democrat of the purest sort and popular to a marked degree, the future seemed to hold some high preferment for him. But alas! he is cut down in the flush of early life by the shot of a brutal negro, for whom death in any shape would be too good. Dan was a son of Col. T. T. Garrard, who had centered his hopes on him, and in the severe affliction, he and his wife and children have the heartiest sympathy of legions of friends.

Mrs. J. H. STEPHENS will open up a new line of millinery goods at Crab Orchard the 1st of March.

THE Garrard court closed without a conviction of consequence. Our neighbor has about gotten so that courts are not necessary.

THE next issue of this paper will tell the tale and our judgment is that it will be that the prohibition law has been reaffirmed by a safe majority.

THE young folks of the Cedar Creek neighborhood report a lovely time at the candy party at Mr. Will Curtis' Tuesday night.

TREPANNING.—Dr. J. B. Clarke, of Lexington, is here to be present at the operation to be performed on his father, Mr. Bryant Clarke, at his sister's, Mrs. John Horton, to day. Mr. Clarke received a blow on the head last June and has since suffered so to show that his skull was fractured and that it is pressing on the brain. Drs. Peyton and Carpenter will perform the operation which is known as trepanning. The old gentleman is naturally considerably anxious about the matter, but he wants the operation performed no matter what the results are.

—Died, of pneumonia contracted when she came down to the burial of her brother, Miss Cynthia Carson, aged about 50. She was one of the late Ransom Carson's first set of children, of whom Mrs. Sallie Welch, Mrs. Sim Hicks and C. C. Carson alone survive. Miss Cynthia was a member of the Presbyterian church from her youth and lived and died with a full hope of a blissful resurrection. Her remains were brought here for funeral services and interment, followed by many who loved her in life. Miss Cynthia was a splendid woman and spent her life for the good of others. She had many warm friends here, who will drop a tear to think that the patient, self-sacrificing life is at an end and she will no more be known among us.

THE town of McConellsville, O., recently passed a queer ordinance. It provides for building a high fence around a saloon in the town known as the "Blue Goose," which appellation is suggested by the peculiarly bright color of its front. The fence will be placed there so as to prohibit entrance from any other than the front door, which faces the public square, the most prominent portion of the village.

As to a Constitutional Convention, etc.
[For the Interior Journal.]
PARIS, TEXAS, Feb. 8.—The question of calling a convention for revising the present constitution of Kentucky is still agitating the minds of the people, especially those of the members of the legislature. A comparison between the first and the present constitutions of the State may be interesting to some of your readers, more particularly to your young readers.

The people of your State lived under its first constitution 50 years and during that time "multiplied and replenished the State" and subdued it to some extent. That old constitution was a marvelous affair in many respects. The circuit judges were appointed by the governor. The circuit judges appointed the circuit clerks, all of whom held their offices for life, unless removed for cause. In each new county the governor appointed the justices of the peace and they appointed the county clerks, county treasurers, assessors of taxes and constables. At the close of each two years the oldest magistrate became high sheriff and his successor was appointed by the remaining justices, that body thus becoming self-perpetuating. Among the clerks changes were rarely made. The Allins served continuously at Harrodsburg and the Helms at Stanford. An election was held annually for members of the lower House of representatives, etc., commencing on the first Monday in August and continuing three days. The vote was viva voce. Said constitution contained no provisions for the establishing of public free schools. For that reason and many others it became absolutely necessary for the framing of a new constitution. About the year 1850 a new convention was called to perform that task and the work which they did is now the fundamental law of the State and has been during a period of 40 years. It is a great improvement over the first constitution. Would it not be well for Kentucky to live under it another decade? "Better bear the ills that are than flee to those we know not of."

The improvements that have been made in the State as compared with those of the first half of the century are wonderful. The old rail fences have given way to stone and hedge, the old dirt road to the McAdam. Public free schools—the hope of the country—have been established in every county. Railroads gridiron the State in every direction. The mineral resources of the State are being rapidly developed and new deposits are being constantly discovered. That brave old State which had lain for almost a century like a fettered giant, has at last severed her bonds and is marching with gigantic strides towards her high destiny. Her fauna has been so much improved that exportations are being made annually to the old world, while her flora is a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." O thou dark and bloody ground! Land of beautiful women and brave men! "I love thy rocks and rills, thy woods and temples hills." Speaking of her flora, it is the most beautiful on earth. Not so luxuriant as in the tropics, but in autumn especially, it is incomparable. Take a view of her variegated landscape in autumn. The foliage of the poplar, the sugar and white maple, the sassafras, the pawpaw, the black gum and the chestnut. Nothing on earth is so beautiful. I fear it is not duly appreciated. When we enter the domain of science and attempt to account for all this beauty and variety, we find that we cannot fathom it. We discover, it is true, that the moisture of the earth is taken up by capillary attraction and is carried through every fibre of the tree, and we call it sap, but by what process it imparts to the foliage such a variety of coloring and beauty we cannot explain. We find that heat, moisture, light and the atmosphere are the factors that enter into the production of these phenomena, but we find also that when life becomes extinct in either the animal or the vegetable these same factors seize upon it at once and begin to reduce it to its original elements—making the mystery more mysterious. We are therefore forced to exclaim: O nature! thou embodiment of the living God; who can fathom thy vast extent, thy towering heights, unmeasured depths? D. M. HOCKER.

Remarkable Rescue.
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested the use of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles she found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at A. R. Penny's drug store; large bottles 50c and $1.

Happy Hoosiers.
Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Indiana, writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store."

AUMOR

THE POWER OF A PLUGGED NICKEL.

A Whole Carload Fascinated and Embarrassed by an Outlawed Coin.
A tall man with a dark mustache and imperial got into a south bound Broadway car at Twenty-second street the other day and took a seat about midway up the car. When the conductor came for his fare the man fished a nickel from his pocket. The conductor looked at the coin sharply and passed it back again. "What's the matter?" asked the man. "It's plugged," said the conductor.

The man put a pair of eyeglasses on his nose and critically surveyed the nickel. He found that the conductor was correct, and handed him a good nickel. He was about to put the bad one back into his pocket when he noticed that every one in the car was looking at him. He turned very red, hesitated, and finally dropped the nickel slyly on the floor. Every one saw him do it, but every one tried to appear as if he didn't notice it. The nickel lay on the floor in plain sight, but no one would look at it. All seemed to think that they would appear as if they coveted it if they did. Every one seemed quite uncomfortable. Two or three men tried to read, but they couldn't concentrate their attention on their newspapers. The conductor passed over the nickel once or twice, and tried not to notice it.

At Fourteenth street a man got in and was about to sit down, when he espied the nickel. He picked it up and tried to hand it to an old gentleman with a red face and a white mustache, saying, "You dropped this, sir."

"No, I didn't," said the old gentleman, with a laugh.

Then everybody laughed, as if greatly relieved. The man who had picked up the nickel looked closely at it, turned bright crimson and dropped it again. Everybody saw him, but whichever way he looked he saw only averted faces. The people would glance slyly at him from the corners of their eyes, and then look away again very quickly. Again no one looked at the nickel, although every man there knew to a nicety just where it lay. It stayed in the same place on the floor until the car stopped just above Chambers street. Here the conductor told the passengers to take the next car, as that one was going to switch off and go up town again. As they left the car all the passengers took a last glance at the plugged nickel, but no one touched it. It started up town again, and all the passengers went down town with that nickel weighing heavily on their minds.—New York Sun.

A Put Up Job.
"I don't see why every one makes such a kick on putting up a stove and pipe," said Binks. "To read the papers, one would think it the short road to insanity, but I didn't find it so. Easiest job I ever did."

"Been putting one up?" asked Jinks. "Yes—just finished." "Well, didn't you get all soot, and spoil your clothes?" "N—no!" "Nor bruise your fingers, and get your eyes full of stuff, and spoil the carpet?" "Not I."

"But you must have perspired, and tired yourself out, and fallen off the chair you were standing upon?" "Nary."

"Say, Binks, I believe you're a liar! You say you put up your stove and stove pipe without any of those adjuncts, and expect me to believe it." "Of course I do—here's the ticket. I got $10 on 'em."—Munsey's Weekly.

Professional Pride.
First Printer—What are you saving up your money for, Bill?
Second Printer—I'm a going to get my wife a new hat on her birthday.
First Printer—What! you ain't reforming, are you, Bill?
Second Printer—No, but I'm bound to give my wife a display head for once in her life.—Burlington Free Press.

A Good Excuse.
Mrs. G.—I hope you will excuse my husband for not attending your brother's funeral.
Mrs. H.—Was he ill?
Mrs. G.—No; but he had one of his silly fits on, and then he would laugh if you showed a gas bill at him.—Texas Sittings.

Couldn't Hold It.
Little Three-year-old (who has put her hand out of the window while it was snowing)—Oh, mamma, mamma, I ketched a snow!
Mamma—Where is it, darling?
Little Three-year-old (looking at her hand blankly)—It runned away.—West Shore.

In a Studio.
Artist—Vanderbilt has bought "The Grand Canal of Venice" for $100,000.
Old Gent—Is that so? I didn't know he handled anything but railroads.—Washington Star.

A Wise Precaution.
Mr. Williams—What you doin' dat fo', Mr. Jo'son—puttin' mosquito nets up dis time in de year?
Mr. Johnson—Waal, yo' see de doctor tole me de air war full of dese yer gripper micro bees; so I's takin' precatious agin' gittin' 'em into de house.—Harper's Bazar.

MEN OF LETTERS.

According to Sir Edwin Arnold, Edgar A. Poe and Joaquin Miller are the two American poets who are sure to live forever.
The grave of Robert Browning has been dug close to the front of Chaucer's monument, and exactly between it and the monument of Cowley in Westminster Abbey.

Mr. Clark Russell is now such an invalid that he is moved about in a bath chair. This does not prevent him from being one of the most industrious literary men in England.
Oliver Wendell Holmes has taken to a peculiar course of life. He always retires at the same hour, eats dinner in the middle of the day and walks at least two miles every twenty-four hours.

Max O'Rell, who has spent some time in Ireland, says: "I have often been asked why I have not written a book on Ireland. The answer is this: I like to write on the faults of people, and I never could find any in the Irishman."

Swinburne, the poet, is a great pedestrian, taking a "constitutional" every day on the roads around his home at Putney Hill, England. He never wears an overcoat and dispenses with gloves when the weather will permit.

SOME ORIGINS.

Envelopes were first used in 1839.
The first steel pen was made in 1830.
The first air pump was made in 1650.
The first lucifer match was made in 1829.
The first iron steamship was built in 1830.
Ships were first "copper bottomed" in 1783.
The first use of a locomotive was in 1819.
The first steamboat plied the Hudson in 1807.
The first horse railroad was built in 1826-27.
The first newspaper advertisement appeared 1652.
The first watches were made in Nuremberg in 1477.
The first sawmaker's anvil was brought to America in 1819.—Cottage Hearth.

To the Voters of Lincoln County.

Storms are gathering in the sky,
Vengeful thunders hover nigh,
Plague spots at our doors appear,
Filling honest hearts with fear.
Whisky with a giant's stride
Stalks the land with pomp and pride,
Those who've named the name of Christ,
Acting now as Mammon's priest.

Little boys who now should be
Lipping prayers at mother's knee;
Now upon the pave we meet
Reeling, swearing in the street.
Some who have to manhood come,
And should be the stay of home,
Husbands, fathers, sons and brothers,
Breaking hearts of wives and mothers.

Men of Lincoln, hear the call,
By your votes we stand or fall;
Cast them then for truth and right,
Not for vice, disease and blight.
When a child shall ask for bread,
Will you poison him instead?
Poison which you know must bring,
A serpent's bite, a scorpion's sting.

Men of Lincoln, hear the call,
Of broken hearts on every gate,
Let your votes in Heaven be read,
Not for whisky but for bread.
Must we drink this cup of woe?
Shame and sorrow must we know?
Once we broke this fatal chain,
With God's help you can again.

Men of Lincoln, "lead and true,"
'Tis not gold we ask of you,
But human souls, we beg you save,
From drunkard's hell and drunkard's grave.
Before the Judge at last we come,
The trying place, God's great white throne;
Thy brother's keeper there thou'll be,
His soul will be required of thee.

The hand now writing on the wall,
Says by your votes you stand or fall,
Lord Thou seest us weak and cold
Rise as in the days of old.
Bare Thine own almighty arm,
Save our homes from every harm;
And may truth the victory win,
Over whisky, fraud and sin.

A Child Killed.
Another child killed by the use of opium given in the form of soothing syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can relieve the child's peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or morphine. Sold by A. R. Penny.

Is Life Worth Living?
Not if you go through the world a dyspeptic. Dr. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets are a positive cure for the worst forms of dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency and constipation. Guaranteed and sold by A. R. Penny.

Can't Sleep Nights
Is the complaint of thousands suffering from asthma, consumption, coughs, etc. Did you ever try Dr. Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all lung troubles. Sold on a positive guarantee at 25c and 50c by A. R. Penny.

We Can and Do
Guarantee Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. It is a positive cure for syphilis, poisoning, ulcers, eruptions and pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution. A. R. Penny.

A Duty to Yourself.
It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not grip. For sale by A. R. Penny.

When you need a mild laxative you should have a medicine that will act on the liver and kidneys as well as the bowels. Beggs' Vegetable Liver Pills are prepared expressly for this purpose. Instant on getting them, as they have no superior and few equals. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

DRUNKENNESS—THE LIQUOR HABIT
In all the world there is but one cure, Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they are drinking of their own free will. No harmful effect results from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 125 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.
